Offering you the ultimate Pampering package

ESCAPE the toils and troubles of everyday life and indulge in some of the best beauty treatments available today in Pearl Beauty, a luxurious salon and day spa.

Situated in Carlingford, Pearl Beauty is owned by Marion Cunningham, a 23-year-old beauty therapist from the Greenore Road. Marion trained with Bronwyn Conroy in Dublin and has been qualified for six years. After working as a senior therapist in Newry for four years, Marion opened her own salon on Tholsel Street, Carlingford on November 15, 2007.

Initially, Marion worked alone on the ground floor of the premises with just two treatment rooms, a nail bar and a spray tan room.

However, just two years later Marion has expanded the business and now works alongside another skilled therapist, Sally McKeivitt, from Carlingford.

Despite the recession, Marion made the brave decision to invest in her business by refurbishing and expanding the salon which now operates on three floors of the same premises.

She closed the salon on Saturday, November 7 and after extensive work was carried out to create a brand new, decadent look, the salon re-opened on Friday, November 20, 2009.

"I wasn't sure whether or not to expand with the economy the way it is, but I decided to do it in the end because thankfully my business has been steadily growing. I knocked down the spray tan room and this allowed me to create a much bigger space for the reception area," said Marion.

There is still a nail bar, spray tan room, a large treatment room and also the new make-up and lash bar on the ground floor. On the first floor there are two more spacious treatment rooms and a third room which houses a Balneotherapy Bath.

"It's a 30-minute treatment which is very relaxing. I add seaweed and aromatherapy oils to the bath and the powerful jets work simultaneously on specific areas of the body combating stress and muscular aches and pains.

"It is especially effective for helping arthritis sufferers and very popular for those who play sports to help relieve muscle fatigue."

It can be used on its own or can be followed with a massage for a little bit of extra pampering. Also newly available are day spa packages.

"A day package lasts for up to four or five hours.

You come in, change into a warm, fluffy robe and slippers and you chill out in the relaxation room with complementary wine, juice and nibbles. Lunch is also provided.

"When your treatments are finished you can go back into the relaxation room to unwind a little more. It's a fantastic chill out experience," she said.
